DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 8-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Diederichs.

Regarding claim 8, (see figs. 1-4, col. 3, lines 55-68) Diederichs discloses an electric motor comprising: a housing; a stator comprising a stator core, said stator at least partially within said housing, said stator core comprising a plurality of generally planar laminas (1 and 2), each lamina having an axis, each said lamina comprising a plurality of notches (26) and a plurality of interlock tabs (27), the notches extending outward from the interlock tabs to an outside diameter of said laminas; and a rotor having a rotor core and disposed at least partially within said stator.

Regarding claim 9, the electric motor according to Claim 8 wherein said rotor is disposed coaxially within said stator.

Regarding claim 10, said interlock tabs have an oblong shape, an inside edge, an outside edge, and a pair of semi-circular edges.

Regarding claim 11, said each said lamina includes at least two interlocking tabs.

Art Unit: 2834

Regarding claim 12, each said lamina of said stator core stacked on top of an adjacent lamina to form a stack of laminas, said stack of lamina further comprising a first lamina, a plurality of interior laminas, and a last lamina, said plurality of interior laminas arranged in between said first and said last lamina, said each lamina having at least a plurality of interlock tabs, said plurality of interlock tabs received by each adjacent lamina to enhance the engagement between said laminas.

Regarding claim 13, said first lamina and said last lamina further comprising an upper surface and a lower surface, said upper surface substantially parallel to said lower surface, said first lamina's upper surface and said last lamina's lower surface substantially parallel to each other and substantially flat.

Regarding claim 14, Diederichs (fig. 1-4) discloses an electric motor comprising: a housing; a stator comprising a stator core, said stator at least partially within said housing, said stator core comprising a plurality of generally planar laminas, each lamina having an axis, each said lamina comprising a plurality of interlock tabs, the plurality of interlock tabs extending outward to an outside diameter of said laminas; and a rotor having a rotor core and disposed at least partially within said stator.

Regarding claim 15, Diederichs discloses a stator core comprising a plurality of generally planar laminas, each said lamina having a plurality of notches with a first axis of symmetry and a plurality of interlock tabs with a second axis of symmetry, the notches extending from the interlock tabs to an outside diameter of said laminas.

Art Unit: 2834

Regarding claim 16, said first axis of symmetry and said second axis of symmetry of coincide.

Regarding claim 17, said first axis of symmetry and said second axis of symmetry do not coincide.

Regarding claim 18, said first axis of symmetry is positioned at an angle α with respect to said second axis of symmetry.

Regarding claim 19, said interlock tabs have oblong shape, an inside edge, an outside edge, and a pair of semi-circular edges.

Regarding claim 20, the interlock tabs includes a third axis of symmetry, said third axis of symmetry perpendicular to said first and said second axis of symmetry, said first axis of symmetry further located a pre-determined distance from said second axis of symmetry.

Regarding claim 21, diederichs discloses a stator core comprising a plurality of generally planar laminas, each said lamina having a plurality of interlock tabs with an axis of symmetry, the interlock tabs extending to an outside diameter of said laminas.

Election/Restriction

3. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 8-21 in Paper No. 6 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a thorough search and examination of remaining claim would be relevant. This is not found persuasive because the group I and group II are clearly distinct as a different class search.

Art Unit: 2834

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.
